FOOD DROP FRIDAY COMES TO SOUTHPORT
May 15, 2020

Locally owned food distributor McFarling Foods continues to salute local frontline heroes during the outbreak of COVID-19 virus, with their new program: Food Drop Friday.

This week's Food Drop Friday event will salute the Southport Police Department, as McFarling donates and delivers boxed lunches to all officers and police personnel. Delivery will take place on Friday, May 15, 2020, and the meals will be prepared by Flashback's Bar and Grill, a longtime customer of McFarling Foods, located in Southport.

"Food Drop Friday never gets old. Thank you to this police department, who does such a wonderful job", says Jason Acquisto, Marketing Manager at McFarling Foods. "We are also thrilled to help stock this food pantry."

The food pantry serves Perry Senior Citizen Services (PerrySeniors.org) and is located at the Southport Police Department. Along with lunch, McFarling Foods brought along a food donation worth nearly $6000 for the pantry.

Other recent highlights from McFarling Foods ongoing outreach to the local community:

- Development of new donation programs for White River Christian Church Food Pantry, Lord's Pantry at Anna's House and others
- New provision plan implemented for Scott County IN to address food instability among population
- Development and distribution of free instructional resources about restaurant cleaning and preparation for their gradual re-opening in Indiana.

- Live on-air interview with Radio Latina, offering advice and recommendations for families, what to expect and how to stay healthy during re-opening
